

From evidence to policy:
Educational experience in creating effective policy briefs
for better policy decisions

Cha-aim Pachanee

International Health Policy Program (IHPP),
Bureau of Policy and Strategy, Ministry of Public Health, Thailand
10 September 2013

Bridging the Research-Policy Divide

AusAID-ALA Fellowship Program

NCEPH, The Australian National University

20 August – 27 September 2012

First Workshop, 4-8 March 2013

Second Workshop, 15-19 July 2013

Key success factors

- Collaboration from organizations and experts
- Attention and willingness to learn from participants
- Information from policy makers and policy entrepreneurs

Lessons learned

- Position/ responsibility of participants determined their learning success
- Case examples of various policy briefs stimulated better learning
- Understanding overall situation of the issue and knowing stakeholders enabled better policy influence
- Other relevant skills are essential for making a better policy brief